

Client Q&A with BackBay Communications

July 16, 2021

Foreside's President, David Whitaker recently shared why our firm works diligently at helping the industry understand that outsourced compliance is appropriate at any stage of a financial services' firm's lifecycle.

In a recent client Q&A feature with partner BackBay Communications, David shares more about Foreside's value proposition, what the most critical items are when a company contemplates outsourcing compliance solutions, and more about our headquarter state of Maine.

“When firms find a reliable and trustworthy compliance solution, they can continue to focus on their growing their business practice while utilizing a partner as a path forward to regulatory success.”
